2018 marks the centenary of the birth of Nelson Mandela. To celebrate his legacy, this event, presented in collaboration with Union Dance and Muntu Arts, explores the theme of inspired leadership in the 21st century.

A diverse panel of cultural leaders looks at issues of influence, entrepreneurship, creativity and personal power through their work. Introduced by artist and former British Museum Curator of African art Chris Spring, and chaired by journalist, broadcaster and Muntu Arts Editor Karina H Maynard.

Featuring:

Lola Jaye – Orphan Sisters author, Penguin Books
Dr Leon Sealey-Huggins – Global Sustainability, University of Warwick
Cobbie Yates – Sportswear Fashion Editor, ASOS
Corrine Bougaard – Artistic Director, Union Dance
Ibilola Femiola – Stephen Lawrence Building Futures programme graduate
Derek Taylor – Entrepreneur, Dalhousie London
Femi Aseru – Entrepreneur, Life Of A Tree
Wumi Olaosebikan – Visual Artist

With contributions from:
